BROAD THINKERS | STRONG LEADERS

Why Choose Lake Forest Graduate School of Management?

Since 1946, more than 8,000 experienced professionals have chosen the Lake Forest MBA program — at our campuses in Chicago, Schaumburg and Lake Forest, and on site at leading area companies — because they were looking for more than just a graduate business credential. They were looking for an experience that was practical, relevant, exciting and collaborative, and that would give them the knowledge, attitudes, habits, skills, and network to take them to new heights or directions in their careers.

As an independent, accredited, not-for-profit business management school, Lake Forest Graduate School of Management (LFGSM) puts your educational interests first. A pioneer of the practical business education model, LFGSM was originally founded through a partnership of leading Chicago-area businesses. Here, students get the solid business theory they need, along with a “practice field” for sharpening their skills. To this day, providing graduate business education is all we do.

Choose LFGSM's Daytime MBA and get:

- A class schedule that fits your life (Tuesday and Thursday classes between 9:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.; summers off)
- Skills and perspectives for getting back in the game or retooling for a new career
- A streamlined admissions process
- A practical business education that broadens your thinking and expands your career possibilities
- Relevant learning from business-leader faculty
- Unique options for career re-launchers, including coaching services and special seminars
- Scholarship opportunities based on financial need
- A graduation date that's just two years away
- The same powerful MBA curriculum that's offered in our evening and weekend programs.

For years, you've supported the growth and discoveries of your children.

Who Chooses the Daytime MBA program?

This program is ideal for men and women who are re-launching their careers after a period of career break (perhaps to care for their young children), and is also a perfect choice for professionals with flexible or alternate work schedules. As well, evening and weekend MBA students can accelerate the completion of their degree by taking additional classes during the day.

Are You a Career Re-launcher?

The Daytime MBA program at Lake Forest Graduate School of Management is an option that fits the schedules, needs, interests and even the fears of stay-at-home parents who are planning to re-enter the workforce in the next few years.

“After 7 years away from the workforce following a 16-year career as an operations/sales professional, I needed the confidence to get back on the executive track. LFGSM is giving me the skills and perspectives I need. They understand that, while the world of business might have changed while I was at home with my children, my talent, ambition and experience have not. The daytime option at LFGSM means that re-launchers like me now have a powerful alternative to traditional MBA programs. We have unique needs and talents, and LFGSM understands that.” – Carrie Buchwald, LFGSM Class of 2012

Now, it's your turn.
Don't just re-launch.
Realize your greatest potential.

Now, imagine them asking you: “What did you learn at school today?”

What a Difference a “Day” Makes

The Daytime MBA Program at LFGSM is about more than just convenience. It's about a program that fits into your life.

It's about faculty who understand your talents and experience. It's about classmates who are as smart and ambitious as you are. It's about lessons from the real world, not from dusty textbooks or business consultants who have never run an organization. And in the end, it's about fast-tracking the Chicago area's best and brightest through a two-year MBA program that will have far-reaching impact on their careers, their companies and their families.

LFGSM's Daytime MBA is designed for anyone who meets LFGSM's admissions criteria and is available to take classes during the day (like sales professionals with flexible schedules or healthcare providers who work third shift). Unique options for career re-launchers are offered à la carte and are not part of the required curriculum for all daytime students.
